EXTRA SESSION

Talk Goes a Glimmering Now That Congressional Work is Lessening Fairly.

THE SHIPPING BILL NEXT

Now That the Army Act and Others Have Reached the President's Desk.

THE DEMOCRATS SEE DEFEAT.

Washington, Feb. 1.—After an eventful experience, beginning with the present session of congress and covering about two months, the bill for the reorganization of the army last evening passed its last stage in congress and now goes to the president for his signature. The final step was taken in the senate, where, by a vote of 33 to 25, the conference report on the bill was agreed to. The final action in the senate was exciting. Several Republicans voted with the Democrats.

According to Chairman Hull of the house military affairs committee, the new army will cost for the first year approximately $112,000,000 or $114,000,000. He believes that after the first year the cost will fall below $100,000,000, as the army will not be kept up to the maximum limit, if indeed, the minimum number of soldiers are in service, the cost of maintenance will exceed this figure. The military committee is now at work on the army appropriation bill.

The shipping bill, now that the army matter has been disposed of, will be taken up right along and doubtless passed at this session.

The house also yesterday passed the fortifications appropriation bill and made fair progress with the postoffice appropriation bill.

The final passage of the army bill and Senator Jones' attitude in not calling a caucus of Democratic senators to take action on procedure in the shipping subsidy matter—and this he has declined to do—have caused today great elation among the advocates of the bill. The press bureau of the lobby issues a statement to the effect that many Southern states through their commercial bodies are favoring this bill. The reason assigned by Senator Jones for not calling the caucus is that it would only show a diversity of opinion among the Democrats on the bill. The Democrats are displeased.

The talk of an extra session of congress is on the wane. While the president has not made his mind up on the subject, he is being strongly urged not to issue the call. It is argued that congress should be called to ratify or reject the new Cuban constitution. On the other hand it is contended by some that, according to a resolution passed by the senate some time ago in which it was expressed that the United States should have no exercise of sovereignty over Cuba, congress has now no right to take any action in the constitution of that country. The latter idea is growing in popularity, hence the waning of the extra session talk.

A LIFE SENTENCE.

WAS GIVEN GIBSON, THE CHILD MURDERER, TODAY.

Catlettsburg, Feb. 1.—There is as yet no verdict in the Gibson murder case. It looks like a hung jury. If this proves the case a lynching is almost certain.

LATER:—Gibson was given a life sentence for the killing of his stepchild. Verdict rendered this afternoon.

The Zenda club gave another of their very pleasing dances at the club rooms last night.

TO LECTURE.

E. P. CROWE WILL SPEAK ON THE ROUND TRIP "FROM THE PULPIT TO PERDITION."

Mr. E. P. Crowe, who was until last summer pastor of the Methodist church at Owensboro, has decided to become a temperance lecturer, and will start out shortly delivering his lecture, "From the Pulpit to Perdition."

It is probable he will lecture in Paducah first. Mr. Crowe has been editor, preacher and lecturer, and will no doubt have many interesting and entertaining things to say.

London Today—Great Pomp Marked Removal of the Remains From Osborn House to Portsmouth.

Cowse, Feb. 1.—Queen Victoria's body was today removed from the Osborn House and placed on the royal yacht Alberta. Then, escorted by a magnificent fleet of the warship of every nation, ten miles in length, was transported to Portsmouth, where it remains until morning. Great pomp marked the removal here and on the water, though there was much evidence of mourning. Tomorrow London will be all agog over the funeral proper and the entombing of the remains.

REWARD COMMISSION.
THAT $100,000 STEAL IS TO BE STIRRED AGAIN.

INSPECTOR J. C. HOLMES AP-
PROVES PLANS OF IMPROVEMENT.

Inspector J. C. Holmes, of Cincinnati, arrived today and after inspecting the government building approved the suggestions of Custodian F. M. Fisher for improvements consisting of a driveway about the building, a wall shutting off the adjacent livery stable, the mounting of a gun in the southeast corner of the yard, at Broadway, and minor changes and improvements.

The government will furnish the cannon, but the freight on it, and the mounting will have to be done at the expense of the city, or by popular subscription.

It is probable that the work will begin in early spring.

TO ST. LOUIS.

MR. JOHN VAN CULIN WILL MOVE HIS CHEWING GUM FACTORY THERE.

Col. John Van Culin, proprietor of the Grape Fruit Chewing Gum factory near Broadway and Twelfth, will move his factory to St. Louis about the 10th of this month.

This is done because he will be enabled to buy all his raw material cheaper in St. Louis. Col. Van Culin's many friends will regret to lose him, but will wish him every success.

CONTRACT LET.
MR. F. W. KATTERJOHN, AS PREDICTED YESTERDAY, GOT

The Opera House Contract—His Bid Was $23,411—Will Begin Work Monday Morning.

The directors of the Palmer House Company, Messrs. Charles Reed, James Utterback, Joseph L. Friedman, John W. Keller, Sam Hughes and T. E. Moss, met yesterday afternoon, as anticipated in yesterday's Sun, and let the opera house contract to Mr. F. W. Katterjohn, the lowest bidder, whose figures were $23,411. This is for the building, but does not include interior fixtures, decorations, scenery, furniture, etc., which it is estimated will cost $15,000 or more additional.

The new building will face Fifth street adjoining the Palmer house. The frontage will be 76 feet by 173 feet in length. The entrance to the main theater will be sixty feet in width, back to foyer sixteen feet wide. From there this passage way leads to the dress circle, parquet and boxes.

From this passage way is a stairway to the main balcony. The top gallery will be entered from Rock alley by means of a stairway. This gallery will be divided so as to accommodate both white and colored people.

The structure will be taller than the Palmer house.

The stage will be 45 feet deep and 72 feet wide. The curtain opening will be 35 feet wide and 33 feet deep. Height of the stage to the rigging loft will be 65 feet. The basement will be 12 feet in the clear. Ten dressing rooms will be provided and furnished with hot and cold water.

The seating capacity will be about 1,200. The parquetry and dress circle will seat 550. The balcony is arranged to seat 300 persons and the gallery the remainder.

The first eighty feet of the building nearest Fifth street is to be about fifty feet high leaving the remaining forty-five feet of depth, or that portion over the stage, eighty-two feet high. This is done that enough room may be had over the stage, at the rear, to pull scenery and curtains straight up into the flies, and not shove them to the side or roll them up on rollers, as was done in the old opera house.

The fifty feet left in the front is to be reserved for the hotel annex. When the latter structure is erected a twenty-five foot court will intervene between it and the opera house, making the two buildings separate.

Contractor Katterjohn expects to begin tearing the building formerly known as the Brooks infirmary away Monday, and work will be pushed.

POLICE COURT.
JAKE CALDWELL WAS DISMISSED BY JUDGE SANDERS TODAY.

Jake Caldwell, the colored shoemaker charged in the police court with being a fugitive from justice, wanted at Hopkinsville for deserting his three children, was dismissed by Judge Sanders today.

James Brown, colored, arrested by Officers Gourieux and Singery for beating Mary Winn, was fined $30 and costs.

Wm. Lyle, arrested by Officers Nance and Rogers, was fined $1 and costs.

Lee Mason, a burglar, was shot and killed Tuesday night in James Bennett's saloon in Cincinnati by the bartender, who was sleeping in the place. Mason was recognized as an engineer at one of the iron furnaces.

L. K. Marty will be president of the reorganized German National bank at Newport, and Albert M. Larkin, will be cashier. The institution will open Monday.

The Grosse Berliner Strassenbahn company, which owns a majority of the street railroads in Berlin, declared a dividend of 11 per cent. as against 10 1/2 per cent. a year ago.

John Green Williams, a merchant of Grangertown, Union county, dropped dead in his store. Apoplexy was the cause.

A DISTILLERY.
PROSPECTS THAT MR. C. L. AP-PLEGATE WILL MOVE THE

"Beechgrove" Here—The Council Will be Asked for a Five Year's Exemption From Taxation Monday.

Paducahans who saw in the Washington dispatches last Monday that the establishment of a bonded warehouse here had been authorized by Commissioner Yerkes hardly realized what it meant to Paducah. It will not only be a great convenience to the wholesale liquor trade, but may be the means of bringing one of the largest distilleries in the state here.

Mr. C. L. Applegate, of Owensboro, the well known distiller, and who is owner of the bonded warehouse in Owensboro, will be here Monday to make arrangements for a site for the erection of the building to be used as a bonded warehouse here.

He will purchase two acres of ground, and erect at present a building with a capacity of 10,000 barrels. Later on he will enlarge the building or build an addition.

The first thing he will do, however, will be to induce the city council, if possible, to exempt the warehouse from taxation for a period of five years. If the council does not make the exemption, the warehouse will be erected outside of the corporate limits, in order to reduce the taxes. It is probable that the council cannot exempt the property, as their power does not include anything except manufactories employing a certain number of men or more.

While the bonded warehouse will be owned by a private company, the government will station there a storekeeper and gauger, and there is a likelihood of a scramble for the place, with one or more Paducahans in the contest.

The most important part of the affair, however, is that Mr. Applegate, if he can secure exemption from taxation and other inducements, intends to move his big distillery, "The Beechgrove," to Paducah. It is one of the largest in the state, and would be quite an acquisition to Paducah.

Mr. Applegate, as already stated, will arrive Monday, and at Monday night's council meeting will doubtless be decided the question of exemption.

At present no particular site is in contemplation for the warehouse. It is probable that Paducah capital will have a chance to take stock in the company.

FRIDAY, FEB. 1, 1901.

That extra session of congress will come, without fail. The president has spoken.

Kansas developed Mrs. Lease and Mrs. Nation. Is it not time for Kansas to reform?

When a paper winks at blackmailing to secure advertising patronage, or a candidate to secure votes, it is time for people to shun them both.

The status of the ship subsidy bill is not such that its friends are promising much for it, but it is at least significant that its enemies have about run out of ammunition.

The opponents of the army bill now say the government can't find the men to enlist. The statement is ridiculous if not a directly false one. There are five times the number needed who stand ready to enlist and will do so when the call is made.

If half the reports from China relative to the conduct of the powers soldiery are true it would seem the missionaries who long to convert the almond-eyed heathens should hasten themselves home. There must be work from whence such armed thugs hail.

If the threatened insurrection in Turkey occurs and all the debtor nations take a hand to collect the obligations due there won't be enough of the country left by next Thanksgiving's day out of which to make a dish of hash. The sultan should therefore hasten to a high perch ere it's too late.

Only a single reigning queen, since the death of Victoria, remains—Wilhelmina of Holland. Of the seventy-four heads of government throughout the world, twenty-two are presidents, fifteen kings and six are emperors. The presidents having one majority, it would appear that Republican ideas are in the ascendancy.

Tomorrow England's late queen will find the same rest for her body which ten days since came to her soul. The march of life will truly be over when all that is mortal of the beloved dead is entombed in the palatial mausoleum she erected over her departed husband years ago. England tomorrow, therefore, will again turn to the real, and life in earnest will be resumed. This is but the old, old story of life—a fitful fever and death everlasting.

District Attorney Phillips, of New York, in a newspaper talk about his views of life, puts out the suggestion that eating as a social function or as a means of honoring a great man is a barbarous performance and out of keeping with the intellectuality of the present age. Commenting on the suggestion the Philadelphia Times pertinently says: "There is something in this argument, to be sure, but as long as it is as pleasant and natural, as it is now and always has been since the killing of the fatted calf, to proclaim joy, welcome friends and manifest hospitality by breaking bread together, the custom will continue. The most intellectual of us require occasional intervals for rest and refreshment, and all we need is to see that we do not turn the feast into an orgie. When it comes to barbarity there are other matters in this present intellectual age that demand our attention."

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in southern Kentucky treated me without success. I was induced to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. The first bottle gave immediate relief and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." J. C. GILBERT.

"WHY KENTUCKY IS IN THE REAR GUARD."

The Lexington Herald prints a very pointed article as to "Why Kentucky is in the Rear Guard." The article bristles with thoughts or suggestions and The Sun makes a liberal extract therefrom. Everyone will find the words profitable indeed. Says the Herald:

"... As a state we have scarcely held our own. We have increased, but not increased as have the states east of us. Relatively we have lost rather than gained. Under the recent apportionment bill twenty nine new representatives were allotted to certain of the states. Kentucky does not get one of these, yet we have over 40,000 square miles in territory. We are in the very heart of the temperate lines. There is no section of America more healthful than our state. Certain large sections in Kentucky are extremely fertile, and our agricultural riches ought to be equal to that of any state in America. We have many acres of cheap lands, where intelligent agriculture can be most profitably pursued. Our taxes are not unreasonably burdensome except in a few municipalities. There has been practically no increase of industrial enterprises outside of Louisville and one or two cities. And we have possibly sent from Kentucky as much home capital as we have obtained foreign capital. Our legislation has seemed to be animated by a spirit of hostility to all invested capital and to all enterprises requiring capital. Our public orators are applauded with rapturous applause only when attacking corporations and enterprising men who might be willing to risk their capital, together with their energy, in building up new enterprises. To tear down rather than construct seems to be the ambition of our political leaders. And in the courts of justice an adverse verdict can be relied upon when a corporation is one of the litigants. We denounce trusts, corporations and monopolies. We are hostile to the enterprising who have capital and to the capital which is necessary for the building up of enterprises; and we call this friendship to the great common people. We do this nominally in the name of those who live by the sweat of their face, and claim that it is our love for the laborer and the humble which inspires these attacks and which produces this legislation. There never was a more foolish position, nor a more preposterous defense. We who live by the sweat of our face must have profitable and prosperous capital invested in the communities in which we live—invested in profitable and prosperous enterprises. There can be no wage unless there is employment. There can be no employment unless there is labor to be done. There can be no labor to be done unless capital is invested in profitable enterprises.

"Every mile of railroad gives comfort, with wage, to laborers. Every completed railroad is a blessing to the communities through which it runs. It builds up those communities; it invites immigrants; it draws money; it constructs school houses, builds churches, opens farms and erects better homes by giving employment, and adds to the happiness as well as to the power of the community. Every successful factory in which anything is profitably produced is an advantage to the community in which it is constructed; and that community can well be liberal to it; relieve it of onerous taxation; protect its property by the administration of justice in the courts of law; see to it that it has a fair living chance.

"There is no reason why Kentucky should not be the leader of all interior states. It may be possible that we cannot fairly compete with those states which lie upon the seacoast, or have the lakeshore within their boundaries. But Kentucky ought to be fully equal in population, in wealth and in enterprise to any of the interior states. She needs better leadership; she needs wiser guidance; she needs more liberal legislation."

What the Herald says of the state as a whole is applicable to Paducah and her people; in fact to all cities, towns and communities. There must be a more liberal feeling toward capital, industry, enterprise, or whatever name suits best. Blessings come in these channels as quick as through others and in a spread of blessings all find a share. The carper is his own enemy, as much so as the anarchist a curse to any land.

OTHER INTERESTING RAILROAD NOTES.

Mr. R. O. Woods, who this morning became store keeper in the Illinois Central shops here, is from Peoria, Ill. Mr. Bell V. Given, assigned to other duties, is given his former place, that of time keeper, and Mr. Dugger, who had the latter place, resumes his former work, as do the other clerks who were changed when Mr. Given was made store keeper. Mr. Gilbert Bailey, one of the clerks, resigned to accept a position at M. Livingston's.

Mr. Charles Gresham, of the Memphis shops of the Illinois Central, was today appointed foreman of the Illinois Central round house here, to succeed Mr. W. C. Mitchell, assigned to duties elsewhere. Mr. Mitchell, who resigned two weeks ago, has not yet decided where he will go.

Mr. W. C. Wagner has been appointed supervisor of the tenth division of the Illinois Central from Louisville to Paducah, to succeed Mr. S. T. Lovett, transferred to Chicago.

Car Inspector J. D. Elmore left today for a trip over the road on an inspection tour.

Conductor A. H. Ellington, who has been on the road for the past thirty-five years, and will be remembered by all the old time railroad men of this section, brought President Fish's special train in yesterday afternoon. He is now running between Jackson, Tenn., and Cairo, Ill.

Chief Engineer Wells, of the Southern railway, has reached Danville, Ky., with a party of surveyors, and it is announced that the branch of the Southern will be built between Burgin, Ky., and Jellico, Tenn., to make connection with the main line. The surveyors have begun work from Harrodsburg southward through Boyle and Lincoln counties. An effort will be made to have the line built via Danville. The merchants and business men along the proposed route are showing great interest in the enterprise and have been assured that the road will be built whether the Southern leases the Cincinnati Southern or not.

The business men of Hopkinsville have appointed a committee to visit Louisville to see the railroad authorities with a view of securing lower freight rates. It is claimed the rates are as high as they were twenty-five years ago from and to that town.

The new depot at Fulton will soon be open for traffic. The seats for the waiting rooms are now being put in, and the various offices of the employees completed. Within a week it will be ready for occupancy. A line of pipe has been laid from the tank up the Cairo track a distance of 300 yards, and a watering place for the engines erected in that part of the yards. The new paved street under the trestle is a model street.

Conductor Colmesnil, one of the oldest in point of service and most popular conductors on the Henderson division of the Illinois Central, was stricken with paralysis, and is now in the hospital at Evansville in a critical condition.

Observations

....at Random

Two rival candidates indulged in the following bit of repartee the other day. They are both candidates for the same office, and one is a lawyer, while the other is—well not.

"I don't understand," insinuatingly said the lawyer, "why a man who isn't a lawyer should want the place. It ought to be filled by a lawyer, by all means."

"Pshaw!" retorted the other, "I didn't know any lawyer was running for the place—"

And friends got between them at this juncture.

A good joke is told about the recent poker game raided by the police Sunday.

A pot had been opened and one man staid on a pair of kings and the other on a pair of aces. After the draw the man with the aces caught a pair of trays and made "ups" and the other caught his third king.

The man with aces up bet out and the man with three kings raised him. The others laid down. The two-pair man soon called and just as the other laid "three kings" and reached for the chips, in came the cops.

"I didn't see dose 'tree kings," complained the man who "called," as they were hustled over to the city hall, "But you put 'saw dose 'tree cops blain eruff!"

Reports to the medical authorities here show that the people of Winchester, Va., have accepted the medical theory that malaria is conveyed by mosquitoes only and have acted promptly upon it. The town council has passed an ordinance for the extinction of mosquitoes, which requires the owners of property to pour crude petroleum upon all the stagnant water in the vicinity of the place, and every household to place a tub or other large vessel filled with water, with the surface covered with oil, under any trees or bushes or vines which may happen to be in his yard. This ordinance was passed last summer and the effect was immediate. Before that time the people of Winchester had been grievously troubled with mosquitoes, but in a few weeks after the ordinance went into effect they disappeared almost entirely, and before the summer was over there was not a mosquito in the place. The abatement of the nuisance is believed to be entirely due to the remedies described, which were comparatively inexpensive. A few dollars and a little trouble was all it cost to get rid of the malaria and the annoyance of the mosquitoes. Similar experiments, though without official aid, have been made in New Jersey, with the result of greatly lessening the plague. Another method, which is said to work well, is to plant castor oil plants in the vicinity of the houses. These are not disagreeable and have no bad odor and yet are said to keep mosquitoes away from their vicinity.

FREQUENT COUGHING inflames the lungs. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR stops the coughing and heals the lungs. The ordinary cough medicines, which are simply expectorants, will not do this, as they keep the lungs irritated in throwing off the phlegm. J. C. GILBERT.

DO NOT DESPISE THE SLOW WALKER.
Robert Elliot, a Chicago grain dealer, was on the point of forming a partnership with the late Philip D. Armour in 1857, but, taking a walk and noticing that Armour's gait was only about two and one-half miles an hour, Elliot concluded that Armour was too slow a man for him to tie up with. Elliot found out afterward "that although Armour was a slow walker, he was the quickest man that ever lived to jump from under impending calamity or to get in on the ground floor of a good thing."
Perhaps young men whose ideals are individuals of the spectacular kind, persons who walk fast, talk in jerky sentences, bustle as they come in and go out, frequently consult their watches, try to look wise without being wise looking, yet whose day's work may be easily contained in a peck measure, may not find the study of the character of Armour unprofitable.
He made no false motions nor let his left hand know what his right hand was doing, but the historian records that he was always able to pay cash for his purchases. In his great wheat deals he had ready money, though he was not a borrower. In times of panic he showed vast resources in spot cash, and even went abroad and bought gold which he loaned to Chicago banks to help them tide over troubled days.
Maybe it is better to be a slow walker and to leave a hundred millions to posterity than to show a great burst of speed and leave nothing behind save a plain vest and possibly a somewhat worn red necktie.

BOND CASE

A. AND J. WURTH CASE CONTINUED UNTIL APRIL COURT.

One Hung Jury—Court is Fifteen Days Behind the Docket.

The suit of A. and J. Wurth against the city of Paducah, on old bonds amounting to about $14,000, was this morning continued until April in the circuit court.

Court is now fifteen days behind the docket. This is the 23rd day of the term and the court is still on the eighth day's business.

The suit of Rachael Davis against the street car company was given to the jury this morning, but at present time no verdict had been rendered and it looked like a hung jury.

The suit of Alex Storrie against the Standard Oil company for $2,000 for injuries received by being struck by the defendant's runaway horse is now on trial.

The case of P. L. Ramsey against William Eler was continued until April.

The case of Ida Brewer against the Paducah Street Railway company was dismissed as settled.

An agreed judgment was filed in the case of A. B. Sowell and others against P. J. Hogan.

In the case of G. W. Davis against the Cohanok company, which the defendant won, motion was made for a new trial.

One reason the court discharged Caldwell was because the officers at Hopkinsville telephoned last night that they couldn't come after him.

The case of Mrs. Brewer, dismissed this morning, was for $5,000 for injuries received. She has left the city.

Manager Lindsay, of the E. E. Sutherland Medicine company, returned last night from a several days' business trip south.
